

Competition Details

Four Categories, Four different prizes, Four More Reasons to be Good!

Best painted Egg (with a Wargaming theme)

Details: A Single real chicken/duck or similar sized egg painted/decorated with a wargaming theme.

1st Prize: A Project Good Apron & a chocolate Easter egg.

Best converted Miniature that's almost only appropriate for a game of GtB

Details: A suitably converted wargaming miniature with a Good: the Battle twist. For example; a reverse mermaid, a half-badger-half-armchair warrior, a marine with shoes for eyes — the more odd, the better.

1st Prize: Signed Copies of Good: the Battle and Nice: the Expansion & a chocolate Easter egg.

Best Uttering of the Word "Good"

Details: A .mp3 recording of you (and friends) saying the word "Good" in a weird and wonderful way. All entries will be collated together to make Good: the Theme 1st Prize: a Project Good T-Shirt and a chocolate Easter egg.

Best New GtB Style Artwork

Details: A new piece of Good: the Battle appropriate artwork — for ideas see our Gallery on the Project Good website. The best selection of entries will be featured in the Decent: the Extension to the Expansion rulebook coming December 2012.

1st Prize: A Project Good Poster & a chocolate Easter egg.

The runner-up in each category will receive a Chocolate Easter Egg

1st, 2nd and 3rd places in each Category will receive a Good & Bad Dice Set.

Submit all work with your details to team@projectgood.co.uk, all entries to the above competitions must be in by 23:59 BST 6th April 2012

Full T&Cs found here: <http://www.projectgood.co.uk/goodfriday2012termsandconditions.pdf>

And there will be lots of random prize-y giveaway shenanigans on Twitter (@ProjectGood) during the whole day of Good: Friday 6th April. Keep up to date with all of the Good: Friday goings on our Blog:

<http://goodtheblog.wordpress.com/>